My Patients are respectfully informed that during my late European tour I visited the celebrated Oculie's and Aurists, Jacob, Whide, Bowman, Watton, Toyabee, Yearsley, Alexander, Demarres, Slobel, McKennie and others, and acquired a therough knowledge of their practice and the recent remarkable discoveries in the treatment of diseases of the EYE and EAR. I believe there is now nothing known to the profession in either hemisphere with which I am not perfectly familiar, and trust that it will not be deemed subsecoming after twenty years' extensive practice and experience (principally in this city) to announce, for the benefit of strangers, that I feel confident that I trest the diseases of those delicate organs as skillfully and successfully as any man living, and have effected and am effecting the most remarkable cares, restoring sight to the bind and hearing to the deaf in many cases hitherto pronounced hopeless.

I have also obtained several new instruments and inventions of incalculable value in my speciality. SPECULA, through which I can clearly observe the interior of the Eye, Ear, Nose or Throat, and at a glance detect the slightest disease, enabling me in every instance candidly to inform paients at the first consultation whether their case is curable or otherwise. A new invention for removing CATARACT without pain or danger, and one for curing STRABISMUS, or Cross Eyes, in a few secouds. ARTIFICIAL TYMPANI, which instantly restore hearing where the DRUM of the ear is perforated or lost. ARTIFICIAL EYES, which move and look exactly like the natural, &c. At home from 9 to 4 o'clock daily.

THE COMMITTEE of ARRANGEMENTS for the ANNUAL FESTIVAL in aid of the ROMAN CATHOLIC ORPHAN ASTLUMS, respectfully amounce that it will take place at the Academy of Music in 14b-z. on THURSDAY, the 18th inst.

Owing to the limited accommodations which the Academy sflords, compared to those of Castle Garden, where it has taken place heretogoe, the Committee have arranged for two definite exits of entertainments on the day designated above; one in the afternoon at 30 clock, and the other in the evening at 70 clock. The same reason obliges them to charge on that occasion full price for the admission of children.

While the Committee, in view of the generous sympathy which has always been manifected for the destitute and he pless little ones whom the Festival is designed to benefit, feel tast a formal appeal is unnecessary, they take occasion to state that the condition of the Asylums is each as to require the immediate and energetic exertions of all their patrons. The past sea on has been one of the greatest embarrasument to the Managers, who have been cometantly perplexed to provide not only for present and pressing wants, but to prouce means where which to satisfy obligations already incurred. The present moment finds the treasury emply, the institutions is debt, reditors importunate, and the necessary supplies for Winter yet unprovided Under these circumstances they are significated to appeal to the chairy of the community which has so nobiy and liberally responded to every former appeal.

SORA's CHILD.—The footric edition of this charming new novel is now ready.

Says The Cincinnati Christian Journal and Messenger:

"It is above the ordinary class of factions. The plot is ingenious, its development is absorbing, and its denouement, with one or two exceptions, peasing and happy. The characters are distinctive, well drawn and striking-portraits of persons sometimes seen in mixed society. The traient for description, and for emotion-painting, is of a high ans refined order. Exquisite sensibility gushes out on every page."

Says the Rochester Dairy Democrat:

"Isora's Child' is a well written, interesting and attractive.

"Isora's Child' is a well written, interesting and attractive books. It will attract the notice and absorb the attention of many who are satiated with the present race of fictions, for it is executed in that free, equal and unexagerated style to which most of that brood are strangers.
